

INDIANS TO BE SELF-SUPPORTING PLAN OF BUREAU

Five-Year Industrial Program Being Outlined; General Population Growing

By LEO A. McCLATCHY
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—A five-year industrial program for all Indian reservations in the United States is being outlined by the Bureau of Indian Affairs, with the view to making every able-bodied Indian in the country self-supporting.

The program will be different, according to the section of the country. In the West, particular attention will be devoted to agriculture. Close attention will be given to instructing the Indian in improving the home and sanitation, and efforts will be made to get every Indian of school age either into public schools or into schools maintained for them by the government.

There are 3,000 more Indians attending school this year than there was in 1921, and the general population of this race is increasing due to campaigns the government has conducted in instructing the Red Men how to care for themselves. This has been augmented by construction of hospitals on reservations.

The total Indian population now is placed at $40,000, an increase of 13,000 in the past ten years.

Asked concerning an article published in a California magazine to the effect Indians are starving to death on the Blackfoot Reservation in Montana, it was said an investigation had proven there was no truth to these allegations.

Whereas, it was stated, are being well cared for and the population on that reservation has increased from 2,516 in 1912 to 3,665 in 1922.

UNION DEMANDS ARE REJECTED

Railroad Labor Board Refuses To Recognize 'Living Wage' Principle For Scale roads would face an annual deficit of more than $2,000,000,000.

Rejection Threatens To Result In Outlaw Strikes

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—The United States Railroad Labor Board has refused to accept the "living wage" principle as a basis for decisions.

It has given great support to the "outlaw" union movement among railroad labor, union authorities here believed today.

Danger of "outlaw" strikes as a result of the decisions was seen by some union heads.

Ed and Haskins, regarded as an "outlaw" union leader, declared his organization to obtain reversal of the board's stand. John Grandau, who led the outlaw strike which crippled railroad service in 1920, was looked to by the "outlaw" union to take the leadership in the fight against the board's stand.

"The fact that the railroad board does not accept the principle of a living wage is an apparent for some time," said Haskins.

"Some men, under the board's decision, are now receiving as low as $300 a year, which is neither a living nor a decent wage."

Madera Officers Seek Turkey Thieves But Find Liquor Cache

(By Bee Bureau.)
MADERA (Madera Co.), Oct. 29.—Sheriff J. H. Burnett and Constable Russell, returned from a search for alleged turkey thieves last night. The search resulted only in the discovery of several gallons of illicit liquor, and as a result Joseph Flisseyre and Joseph Oliver of Chowchilla have been called to appear in court.

OIL DRILLING FAILS
(By Bee Bureau.)
TERRA BELLA (Tulare Co.), Oct. 30.—While workers were pulling the casing from the Lotos oil well, near this place on Saturday, a total derrick collapsed and fell, a total wreck. One man was slightly injured on the head. Work in the well will be suspended until a new derrick is erected, it was stated.

ONLY a few generations ago the barber with his limited knowledge and skill was the community surgeon. Today surgery is a very highly specialized and respected profession.

As in the medical profession so in another calling, one we do not often think about or appreciate, the progress is similarly striking. The service of the modern funeral director is founded on a large fund of new scientific knowledge. It is backed up with facilities that provide for every possible requirement and take the place when desired of hospital, church and home.

It is a service that knows no eight hour day or any social or financial distinction, that places no limitations on what you may wish, that serves you this very day, through its complete preparedness.

COMMISSIONERS SPLIT ON K. K. K.

the case are S. A. Meek, R. E. McNickle, A. C. Wright, J. J. Worsham, H. A. Hall, R. H. Wise and D. A. Lang.

City Attorney Johnston has announced that should the men be reinstated that saloons which they lost during the period of their suspension must be paid the same as though they had been at work during the entire time. More than $1,000 pay as policemen was lost by the saloon men.

Reinstated Saturday.
Reinstatement of members of the police department of the seven men who were dismissed last May because of membership in the Ku Klux Klan was ordered Saturday afternoon by the Civil Service Commission.

Commissioners Leonard and Duggert voted in the affirmative and Commissioner Alva E. Snow in the negative.

The action was taken after the former policemen had been questioned by the commissioners regarding their resignations from the Klan.

Test Of Decision
The decision drafted by Leonard and Duggert follows:

"This is to certify that following a continuation of the hearing of the officers, D. A. Lang, A. C. Wright, S. A. Meek, H. A. Hall, R. E. McNickle, R. H. Wise and J. J. Worsham, held October 28, 1922, we hold that satisfactory evidence of their resignations from the Ku Klux Klan was established by each to our satisfaction and order that they be reinstated without prejudice."

The minority opinion, written by Chairman Snow, said: "I dissent from the order and adhere to my former opinion."

Two Others Accused
One of the outstanding features of the hearing was the statement of two of the witnesses that two men who are now members of the police department were members of the Klan, and that they had been dismissed from the Klan.

One of the witnesses, William E. Blasingame, said that he knew two who were members of the Klan, but declined to tell their names.

Mayer Hart, Chief of Police Traux and Blasingame and Shaw denied the charge. The men said they had applied for membership in the Klan but had withdrawn before the applications had been acted upon.

No Hiding On Salary
Snow also asked each man why, after his resignation had been filed, he had not let it be known publicly that he was no longer a member of the organization.

The substance of the replies was that they had left the whole affair in the hands of their attorneys.

The civil service commissioners did not go into the question of salaries which the men lost during the period of their suspension, Leonard said. It was the opinion of the board that this question was one that should be disposed of by the city attorney or other city officials.

their way into power, was marked with only a few disorders.

Six "Black Shirts" Killed
At Cremona six Fascist were killed by police when the black shirts attempted to take over the government. One man was killed in Rome yesterday afternoon in a conflict between the Fascist and Communist.

The casualties were very light considering the scope of the political upheaval which had every aspect of a revolution.

A sensation was caused when it was learned that Mussolini plans to include Socialists and Populists in his cabinet.

Will Take Important Posts
Mussolini plans to reserve for himself the important posts of minister of foreign affairs and minister of the interior. He may hand over these portfolios to others later, but intends to retain them temporarily.

Rome today was virtually cut off from rail communication with the remainder of the country. The Fascist before it was assumed that they would be handed the reins of government, tore up the railroad tracks, the apparent purpose being to prevent rapid transportation of troops from the provinces to Rome.

RAISIN SUIT FILED
Suit for the possession of raisins valued at $20,250 was filed against John Kagan and Aram Kaganian today in the superior court by the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers. It is charged that the defendants failed to deliver the raisins after having been ordered to do so in the event it is now impossible to deliver the crop, the plaintiff demands payment equal to the market value, and $500 damages in addition.

LARGE CROWD AT REEDLEY IS GIVEN WOOLWINE RECORD

City Attorney Of Fresno Asks Richardson To Explain His Promises

REEDLEY (Fresno Co.), Oct. 30.—Russell Usher and City Attorney Johnston of Fresno addressed a large audience at an open meeting held here Saturday night by the Woolwine for Governor Club of Fresno County.

Preceding the speeches several selections were played by the Reedley Band. Usher was the first speaker and called the attention of the people to Woolwine's record as a candidate for Governor.

He was elected for the third term in a strong republican county by 50,000 plurality.

Attorney Johnston advocated the election of Woolwine for Governor, calling the attention of the people to Richardson's promise to reduce state expenditures $115,000,000 in four years.

Johnston said he believed the people had a right to know how Richardson intends to make such a saving.

He also questioned the possibility of such a reduction without increasing the effectiveness of the state government and seriously affecting the efficiency of the schools, and maintenance of state institutions such as hospitals, penitentiaries and the penitentiary, and also a reduction would necessarily mean an attack upon industrial compensation and other progressive measures adopted by the people of the state.

County Woolwine Club Meets Tonight; To Plan Saturday Auto Campaign

The Fresno County Woolwine for Governor Club will meet tonight in the office of the club president, J. K. Tuttle, in the Cory building.

Tuttle stated this morning that reports have been received of Woolwine's campaign in other parts of the state and that these will be placed before the club tonight.

They are highly encouraged, Tuttle, and plainly indicate that Woolwine is gathering strength every day.

Next Saturday an automobile caravan of Woolwine buyers will tour Fresno County and hold a meeting at Coalinga in the evening. Further plans for this trip and the Coalinga meeting will be discussed tonight.

U. S. UNPREPARED ASSERTS ADMIRAL

representing the ratio of battleships to cruisers in the United States and Japan are to have under the pact.

Treaty Meaningless
"People hailed this pact as a great thing, but it is absolutely meaningless," said the admiral. "The ratio of the world was to be scrapped, did no such thing. To be sure, it limited the number of battleships we can have, limited the size of the cruisers we can have, and the number of submarines, but there was no limit placed on the number of destroyers, the number of destroyers, the number of men or the number of air craft."

"We have our quota of battleships. That was settled by the conference. But we have not anything like equality in cruisers, destroyers, submarines, air craft, carriers or air craft when compared with England and Japan."

Not A 5-5-3 Nation
"Instead of being a 5-5-3 nation, we are a miserable 2-1-1 in the construction."

"Think on these things, for I tell you that if we were plunged into war to-morrow we would not be prepared. You would be sending out a navy manned by green men, hastily recruited, officered by untrained officers, and on ships that need six months' work to be in shape. They would go out to fight, but they wouldn't come back and it would be your fault."

Need More Support
"The navy doesn't want a man more than absolutely necessary. I don't want a ship that is necessary, but if we are to live prepared to maintain our position as defender of the seven seas and our homes, we need more than you are giving us now."

"What are you giving us now? You are giving us to run the navy for a year what you spend on the movies in a week. Which will you have, the navy or the movies?"

the regulation of the electric commission, as to the generation and distribution of electric energy, in all respects, except the issuance of bonds, to the same extent as private corporations owning such property; and

Whereas, Such taxation would greatly increase the burden of expense upon such districts and would be contrary to the public policy of this state exempting public agencies from taxation; and

Whereas, Such regulation, under the rules adopted and enforced by the state, would be so seriously obstructed, if not absolutely prohibited, the distribution of electric energy by such districts in such manner as would be necessary to insure the successful distribution thereof; now, therefore be it

Resolved, By the Irrigation Districts Association of California, in convention assembled at Modesto, California, this 6th day of October, 1922, that the resolution strongly opposes both of said propositions and hereby calls upon all electors at the coming general election to vote against said proposition No. 10 and proposition No. 11.

And your committee further recommends that the secretary of this association be instructed to prepare a letter, giving the text of the foregoing resolution and a brief statement of the importance of the matter to the irrigation districts of the state, and send copies of such letter to the newspapers throughout the state, and to a special agent who they decide editorially against said proposition.

SHALL THE PEOPLE OWN THE WATER?

Proposed Bill Is The Door To Lower Electrical Rates Of The State

picture of the blackest ruin; telling of wildly increased taxes; of bankrupt state; rolling out Bolshevism and Socialism; and generally acting very well scared.

Fear Of Success
The power companies are not afraid public ownership of water and electricity will fail.

They know it will not, for they know the record of Ontario and the record of New Mexico, where in each case The People produced electricity at rates against which the private companies could not compete.

The deadly fear of the power companies is the certainty that if the water and power act passes, California will be producing electricity at rates far below those the private companies are now charging.

If the power companies believed California would fail in her public ownership of water power they would vote for the act to a man, for no better deed blow could be given public ownership than that.

Records Give Proof
But in many places, each year more and more municipalities and larger districts are producing their own power at rates far under those of private companies, and not only doing that, but taking care of bond interest and retiring the bonds as well.

While private ownership not only gives high charges but the lifetime of paying gives the public not a cent more ownership than they had originally.

Rates Compared
Charges for domestic lighting in California cities served by private utilities is 8 cents a kilowatt hour, with a surcharge of 5 per cent.

The charge in Los Angeles is 6.5 cents a kilowatt hour and with that decreased charge Los Angeles is reducing her bonds, providing for depreciation and establishing a surplus.

During 1921 the cheap rates Los Angeles pays for water and power furnished by municipal projects saved the users of that community $3,581,900.33 from what Los Angeles would have paid had private utilities been charging the rates charged elsewhere.

The savings under the municipal rate, coupled with reductions forced from the Southern California Edison to meet city competition, saved the consumers of Los Angeles $3,750,000 last year.

The municipal water supply of Los Angeles was $5,452,500.38 less than would have been paid had private utility charges been paid such as are charged in the San Joaquin Valley Water Company of San Francisco.

What Los Angeles has done the water and power bill upon the November ballot will allow the rest of the state to follow through a carefully planned system.

Power Company Lobbying
The water and power act was the outcome of the defeat in the legislature of the Johnson Hydroelectric bill, which lost by only four votes.

The charge in Los Angeles is 6.5 cents a kilowatt hour and with that decreased charge Los Angeles is reducing her bonds, providing for depreciation and establishing a surplus.

It has received the endorsement of some of the best businessmen in the state; many of the best lawyers have been charged; the franchise has been bought; the franchise has been bought; the franchise has been bought.

Businessmen In Support
That the water and power bill is an intelligent, businesslike plan is attested by the fact that many of the richest men in the state, with heavy holdings in real estate, which would suffer fatally were the bogey of the power companies truthfully realized, have been found in the public interest.

Rudolph Spreckels, multi-millionaire, president of the First National Bank of San Francisco, is speaking in its favor throughout the state.

William K. Kellogg, former United States Senator, has issued a statement in its support.

Many Supporters
Here in the San Joaquin Valley State Senator M. R. Harris, attorney of the Associated Raisin Growers, is an ardent champion of the bill.

Wylie T. Giffen, president of the Raisin Growers, endorsed the bill.

M. F. Tarpy, president of the Fresno Irrigation District, supports the bill.

John Fairweather, known throughout the valley as an irrigation expert, believes the welfare of the San Joaquin lies in its passage.

The State Grange endorsed the bill after a thorough investigation.

The California Federation of Labor took similar action.

The League of California Municipalities with representatives from all cities stands behind it.

All of which is published to show that the water and power bill is not a half-baked dream, but a practical, businesslike plan which has been tested, analyzed and is fully endorsed by those leaders who have been forward in the advancement of the interests of the public.

by us for feedback and his confederates," declared Blasingame today. "We know who they are but have been unable to find any trace of them."

The prisoner will have his preliminary hearing on November 15th. He is at liberty under $1,000 bail.

The round-up of the gang revealed one of the most extensive and systematic thievery schemes in Fresno police annals, the officers state.

Receipts Bring Arrest
A misplaced receipt, given them at a sale of some of the stolen fowls to a local merchant brought about the arrest.

The receipt fell into the hands of a friend of Blasingame and he turned it over to the officer. With the aid of the receipt, Blasingame's address was found and he was arrested.

According to Blasingame, the band has raided many poultry houses and chicken yards about Fresno. It also spread their operations into Madera, Kings and several other counties.

Aid Raiders
An automobile was always used then the thefts were committed, according to the reported confession. In company of the ring-leader, a man named "Pete," the four-prisoner wife and his own wife, the raids were made under cover of night.

Driving up to a chicken yard or poultry house, the thieves would arrange themselves with guns ready and in many instances took every chicken in sight. If not, they would never leave with less than seventy.

Lapra Yards Raided
Blasingame said the activities of the band centered on East Avenue, and at Latac several farms and yards were raided. The officer was unable to estimate the number of fowls stolen, but the value of the loot amounted to hundreds of dollars.

The wife of the man now under arrest, a girl of 18, also confessed to Blasingame, he said. She was not arrested, but is being kept under surveillance.

Ready Market For Loot
It was not stated whether she took actual part in the thefts, but she is known to have accompanied her husband on his raids.

The thieves found ready market for their loot, which they are said to have sold at a comparatively low figure. They started out about eight months ago and continued unhampered until the arrest was made.

EVIDENCE SOUGHT IN MURDER CASE

indicate she does not agree with the verdict of the coroner's jury, which decided that Mrs. Carleton shot the Rev. Carleton while she was temporarily deranged.

The belief of physicians that Mrs. Carleton may have caused the tragedy while under the influence of an overdose of sleeping powders also is discounted by Mrs. Taylor.

The more than general belief here that Mrs. Carleton may have shot the Rev. Carleton because an earlier admission which he said he had written for her, had apparently been borne out by letters found in Mrs. Carleton's effects and from accounts of Mrs. Carleton's action on the fatal night.

One of These Letters
One of these letters was from Judge Carleton, and was dated Los Angeles, August 25. It indicated that a legal divorce had been obtained either by Judge Carleton or by Mrs. Carleton.

"Dear Margaret," the letter read, "I have been thinking a great deal lately that it is not fair that I should have any legal right over you. You are making your own life and are entitled to your own freedom."

The letter then rehearsed the fact of their separation and suggested that she had no chance for happiness with his wife, and that she had not the man who could make her happy.

Fear Of Gossip
Judge Carleton suggested that fear of gossip, perhaps, restrained Mrs. Carleton from obtaining a divorce.

"Don't let those things stand in your way," the letter said.

The divorce action would go uncontested, the letter said, and then: "Why not be honest with ourselves. Better that (the divorce) and the adjustment that is going on this way kidding ourselves."

The remainder of the letter discussed financial affairs, and contained Judge Carleton's plan for paying off certain of their financial obligations.

Sent To Pastor
The Rev. Carleton was in Syracuse, N. Y., spending his vacation when Mrs. Carleton received this letter while on Chautauqua circuit in Illinois. Apparently she forwarded it to him, but with what comment has not been discovered. An unsigned, undated letter placed to Judge Carleton's massive box and handwriting declared to be that of the slain clergyman.

This unsigned letter expressed amazement at Judge Carleton's statement, and said:

"I want to see you clean the slate at Havre. I am going to help. Your stock is going up there. Keep it going. Your pluck and common sense and respect. If time and health and God's blessing only permit."

No Place In Life

BUSINESS MEN TO APPLY GOD'S LAW

Plan To Follow Golden Rule
In All Commercial
Affairs

KANSAS CITY, (Mo.), Oct. 28.—Formation of the Christian Business Men's Federation, the announced aim of which is "to assist men in searching out and applying the laws of God in all commercial relations," was accomplished by an enthusiastic body of leaders in religious thought.

The organization adopted a constitution and bylaws and elected officers. The federation is headquartered in Detroit as the first meeting place.

The officers are: President, Charles H. Watts, Philadelphia; vice-president, Albert Wood, Detroit; secretary, J. G. Gable, Kansas City; treasurer, David Walter, New York.

The primary aim and object of the federation is to assist men in searching out and applying the laws of God in all commercial relations.

The scope shall be the commercial relations of the whole world, to the end that uniformity, efficiency, equity, honesty, justice and fair dealing shall be established everywhere and in every relation of life.

"Loving service rather than personal gain shall be the keynote of our commercial ambition."

"We realize and declare that God is the source of all property and that we must demonstrate his laws in our affairs."

"The golden rule, 'As ye would that men should do to you, do ye so to them,' shall be fundamental in our dealings with all people."

"The teaching of Jesus, as given in the New Testament and as revealed by the spirit of truth promised by Jesus shall be our guiding light."

"In all meetings of this federation a chair shall be reserved for Jesus Christ, the Unseen Guest, whom we acknowledge to be the direct head of our work."

"In all cases where the rule of action is in doubt the matter shall be submitted in prayer to the Holy Spirit, which is the center thought, 'What would Jesus do?'"

Art Teachers Meet And Plan Institute Work

A meeting of the Central California Art Teachers' Association Saturday afternoon at the hotel was attended by members, who took up plans for teachers' institute work.

Miss Hannah Byron announced that preparations for better book week were already under way in Fresno schools and asked that members of the association take steps to observe the day.

Posters are being designed here by pupils to foster interest. No attempt to adopt this means of calling attention to the week will be made in other valley schools, as it was the opinion of those present that it is not too late.

F. V. Camm, chairman of the art section of the institute work program, was present. The part that the association will take in the program has not been entirely decided, according to Miss Florence Gamble.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Seized by two strange men and used as a shield, Arthur Fuscent, 15, of 23 West Sidney Street, Mount Vernon, was stabbed and seriously wounded on Nepperwan street, New York. His story is that when he tried to enter a building near the end of the Nepera Park trolley line, two men, fighting with knives, rushed out. PROPOSALS 10 AND 11 BACKED

Commercial Secretaries Of Valley At Meeting Here
Cast Divided Vote

Propositions 10 and 11 on the ballot and the advertising project for Fresno and eight other counties in the San Joaquin Valley were the chief subjects of discussion at the luncheon meeting of the San Joaquin Valley Commercial Secretaries' Association Saturday at the Commercial Club.

The two propositions on the ballot were given the approval of the members by a large majority. The delegate from Modoc County was the only one against endorsing the measures, although he stated that he personally is in favor of the amendments. He declared his reason for being against endorsing the acts is that his county is planning the development of publicly owned water and power plants.

Patterson Tells Views
The question to be decided by Manager H. E. Patterson of the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce, in discussing the measures, "Is that I cannot see how anybody, with the possible exception of people in San Francisco and Los Angeles, can act other than to support the measures. With the power corporation of Los Angeles and the city railroads of San Francisco operating without paying taxes, the burden of paying the expenses of those two cities rests upon the rest of the state where utilities are taxed."

Yet we see articles appearing in certain papers that we consider entirely false and without foundation. In one instance I asked the editor for permission to correct his inaccurate statements and give him correct information, but he has not given me a hearing."

Advertising Plans Wait
The project of a joint advertising scheme was again held over until the next meeting of the body, which will be held at Visalia shortly after this November election. This subject has been discussed at many previous meetings of the body and nothing definite has been decided.

R. E. Mott, chairman of the advertising committee, resigned, and Guy Leonard, secretary of the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce, was appointed to the position.

The proposal for the reappointment of state legislators was approved by the secretaries. Assemblyman Guy Windrum was authorized to circulate petitions in favor of the proposition.

EDWORTH LEAGUE OFFICERS MEET

Annual District Conference
Draws 200 Delegates
To Fresno Church

Two hundred delegates from churches represented by the Fresno District Epworth League assembled yesterday morning at the First Methodist Church for the first annual officers' conference, with Miss Nevada M. Hunsberger of Reedley, district president, presiding.

Following an address of welcome by Edwin Cooksey, president of the Fresno Epworth League, to which Miss Hunsberger responded, the meeting was adjourned and members attended services in the church.

Departmental conferences, held during the afternoon, were led by James K. Stinchcomb, field secretary of California conference, Epworth League, Mrs. Hunsberger, W. F. Phillips, of McFarland; Miss Hazel Thomas, Porterville; Elmore Peterson, Kingsburg; Dorothy Pratt, Fresno; Ruth Pettit, Lodi; Ruth Mathieson, Frazier; Helen King, Visalia, and Mrs. W. H. Schmalis.

After the group conferences a talk on league advertising was made by Alice M. Scott of Bakersfield.

The world program of the Epworth League was then presented by Stinchcomb. The closing was in charge of Dr. Harry White.

RAISIN MEN MAY CHOOSE NEW HOME

Three Proposals To Be Considered By Sun-Maid Directors

Directors of the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers at their monthly meeting tomorrow are expected to reach a choice on offers from several sources for new quarters for the association business offices.

Consideration of these offers will be one of the main features of the meeting, said General Manager E. Seymour today.

There are three proposals before the growers from property owners and who offer to build for the association.

Losley Linsman offers to build an Impo and L Streets to meet the requirements of the raisin organization.

E. P. Black, who is preparing to build on south Van Ness street, has made the negotiation an offer for commodious offices.

An offer from Holland Bros. help at certain parts of the store owners of the building now occupied by the association, provides for a building on L Street.

The fourth proposition to be considered by the board is that of building on the growers' own property in the South end of town.

Anniversary Sale Plan
Is Given Endorsement

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Suggestions for improving the methods of some retailers at anniversary sales have been made by the sales executive of a well-known mail-ordering firm. He said that the idea of holding these sales was excellent and undoubtedly resulted in largely increased business, but he disagreed with the scheme under which they were usually operated.

"For instance," he continued, "I think it is a mistake to open all of the departments of the store on the same day for the sale. In many cases, these anniversary celebrations extend over a week or more and, in my judgment, it would be far better idea to give each department a special day on which to hold its sale."

"When all of the departments are bunched their sales on the same day, I believe it is an admitted fact there is a great deal of confusion. In more than one instance, it may be said, there has not been enough help at certain parts of the store to take care of the customers waiting to go out at once, deliveries suffer, and, in general, there is somewhat of a falling off from the high standard of service which the customer expects."

"On the other hand, if only one department has a sale each day, the constant sales people can be kept to that division without delay, insuring that the wants of the customers will be quickly taken care of. There should then be no delay in the delivery service. Furthermore, each store section will have the advantage of concentrated attention on its offerings for that day and will not be submerged in the general activities, which happens when all departments hold their sales at once."

Keep California Free from Political Control of Industry

We represent many owners of real property in California. The tax burden on real property, which falls ultimately on tenants as well, and the tax burden on public utilities, which falls ultimately on rate payers, have become oppressive.

The great bulk of our California taxes are laid upon us by popular votes and not by the local and state legislative authorities. The people are too prone to vote for bonds and other expenses without calculating the cost to themselves in taxes. When they get the tax bill, they groan and wonder who saddled them with such burdens.

from Enormous Debt

State Controller Ray L. Riley in his 1921 report, recently published, says:

"During the past decade the total bonded indebtedness for all forms of government in California has increased from $93,906,423 to $321,616,238.66, or 242 per cent, while the wealth of the State has increased about 60 per cent. This tremendous increase that aggregates more than 3 per cent of the total wealth of the State should have the attention of all tax-levying bodies. California's credit must not be jeopardized by over-financing and the same ratio of increase during the next ten years would impose confiscating tax burdens upon the people."

"During the past year the total amount expended for interest and redemption of debt was $27,559,297. To produce this amount it would require a tax rate of 56 cents on every $100 of assessed valuation."

from Destructive Taxes

In face of that warning, a proposed constitutional amendment has been put on your ballot to be voted on November 7th which creates a powerful new commission, called the Water and Power Board, and authorizes it, without further reference to the people or the legislature, to issue state bonds to the enormous amount of half a billion dollars. That bond issue will multiply the state's debt more than six times. The board is authorized to invest the money in water and power speculations and "to do any and all things necessary or convenient for the conservation, development, storage and distribution of water, and the generation, transmission and distribution of electric energy." It is authorized also "to purchase, acquire, produce, manufacture or otherwise provide facilities, materials and supplies, raw or finished, and any property or thing necessary or convenient to the accomplishment of the purposes of this article."

The board is authorized to fix its own rates, which need not be uniform, so that particular localities or industries could be favored. The proposed amendment makes an appointive board, sitting at Sacramento, the arbitrary masters of the credit and the industry of the State of California. The amendment even authorizes the board to appoint and fix the compensation of such employees as it may require and exempts the board from the state civil service.

This is bureaucracy in its completest form. We have had sufficient experience with government by bureaus to know that we don't want any more. California, prosperous as it is, cannot stand the proposed addition to the state debt and the proposed arbitrary control of industry by a board of politicians. Give a political board unrestricted authority to hire employees and fix their compensation, and give them 500 million dollars of taxpayers' money to play with, and in a year you will see the biggest political machine and the biggest tax bills that any state has ever had.

ROAD OBJECTS TO NEW CITY ZONES

Southern Pacific Protests Classing Right Of Way Business Property

Decision of the Fresno Planning Commission to include property along the right of way of the Pollock branch of the Southern Pacific Railroad in a business district classification will be strenuously protested by the Southern Pacific Company. H. E. Loh, district freight and passenger agent, stated today.

A former protest of the same nature, filed with the commission several months ago, was tabled by the commission at the meeting last week when a number of questions which have been holding up the drafting of the zoning ordinance were disposed of, among them being that of whether the property along the Pollock branch should be designated as business or industrial property.

It is expected that the Southern Pacific protest will be ready for presentation to the planning commission at the regular weekly meeting tomorrow night.

Alta Vista Wins Point
Residents of the Alta Vista district, of which this railroad right of way is the western and northern boundary, won a point in the controversy when the planning commission agreed that only a small section of the district should be classified as industrial property. It originally was proposed by the Alta Vista district residents that all the area in question be placed in the residential classification, but a compromise was effected whereby the area of the proposed industrial district was reduced, and the remaining portion classified as business property.

Seeks Industrial Classification
It is the contention of the Southern Pacific Company that the entire district should be classified as industrial property, and it is declared that a hard fight will be waged to have this modification made before the ordinance is passed.

Commissioner Stranahan, to whom the matter was referred at the last meeting of the commission, stated today that neither he nor the city attorney has been able to take any definite step toward preparation of the zoning ordinance because of a press of other business, but that they expected to be able to get started on the work within a few days.

War On Ku Klux Is Waged By Executive Of Kansas

(By the United Press)

KANSAS CITY (Mo.), Oct. 29.—The Ku Klux Klan stands with its back to the wall in Kansas today. The machinery of the state government has started into action against the organization. Klan councils throughout the state are reported to have been called into session in orders issued today to formulate plans for a fight for existence. Governor Henry Allen, who on Tuesday of an election, declared war on the Klan, was in western Kansas today carrying his appeal to the people to rid the state of the white caps.

Meets Executives
At Topeka, Attorney General Hopkins was in private conference with executive officers of the Klan, preparing to draft injunctions curbing operations of the Klan. It was reported from a reliable source that one of these injunctions would prevent further enrollment of Klansmen until action against the organization as a whole could be brought to court. Action to expel from Kansas every official of the Klan is already under way, Governor Allen admitted before leaving for the western part of the state.

Gather For Conference
Kansas Klan officials could not be reached by newspaper men today. It was reported that they were gathering for conference at an unnamed town.

Telegraphic inquiries from leaders of the anti-Klan fight in Texas, which centers around the candidacy of Earle B. Mayfield for the United States Senate, were pouring into Topeka. Indications were that if the crusade against the organization acquires the anticipated momentum in Kansas, it will spread through Oklahoma and Texas. Joint action by officials of these states, or at least the element opposed to the Ku Klux Klan was predicted today at Topeka.

Action Follows Raids
A series of raids, kidnappings and floggings, attributed by Governor Allen's investigators to the K. K. K., led to his unprecedented step in pledging a state against a secret order. The whipping of Mayor Schirman of Liberty, Kansas, some days ago was, according to Allen and Hopkins, the final offense, and one that necessitated prompt and drastic action.

While Allen was making his initial speech against the Klan Saturday at Coffeyville, 14,000 Klansmen were crowded into every inch of space in Coffeyville hall here to hear anti-Catholic speakers. These included Judge Gilbert O. Nations of Washington, D. C., editor of "The Protestant," and William Parker of Aurora, Mo., publisher of "The New Menace."

Residents To Protest Moroa Avenue Paving; Say Cost Is Too High

Hearings of protests against the paving of Moroa Avenue between Olive Avenue and Peralta Way is expected to be one of the principal matters before the weekly meeting of the Fresno City Commission next Thursday afternoon.

Soon after the initial action was taken by the city commission, a number of protests were filed with the city clerk, and since that time others have been received, bringing the total number to twenty.

Two petitions have been filed asking that the names of twenty property owners be withdrawn from the original petition, the contention being that since signing the original petition the property owners affected have found that the cost will be much larger than they expected.

Another improvement project which will be brought to the attention of the commission is the grading and filling of Delphi and Patterson Avenues. A petition for this work, signed by a majority of the property owners along these streets has been filed with the city clerk and will be presented to the commission on Thursday.

The streets in question were badly cut up during the paving of Olive Avenue several months ago, making them almost impassable, the petition recites.

NO. 9—How to Hang Curtains.
The proper making and hanging of curtains is every bit as important as using the right materials. Indeed, curtains of good material, poorly made and ill hung will not look so well as curtains of indifferent material well made and well hung.

For double hung or sash windows of the usual sort, set the curtains as near the glass as possible. Hang them by small rings that slide on rods and are attached to the material just back of the heading so that both rings and rods are hidden. The ends of the rods fit into sockets fastened inside the window casing, just far enough forward from the casing to leave room for the roller shade to work freely between glass and curtains. If the window casing is too shallow to accommodate both shade and curtain rod, the curtain rod may be attached to the front of the window frame, but it is better to keep the curtains inside the frame, if possible, especially if there are hangings as well as curtains. If the curtains hang straight, which is the simplest and usually the most effective way, it is a great convenience to have two traverse rings and draw cords. To close the curtains, one cord brings the traverse rings together in the center, the other rings following; to open the curtains, the second cord pulls the traverse rings to the sides, pulling the other rings before them.

PARIS, Oct. 29. With a few exceptions, evening gowns have made up their minds to be altogether different this season, as contrasted with those of the previous season. The reason for this is, of course, the fashion of the moment, which is to have a more or less straight, downy garment. The new gowns are in the line of the choice of materials which must of necessity be supple and as thin as possible.

Many models are fashioned in georgette and soft crepe, which, when in the more gorgeous, lace-trimmed materials and lace, it will be found that in spite of the stiffness one might believe them to have, they are in reality soft, drapable tissue.

The above illustration represents the draped evening gown as presented by Worth.

It is a soft, black, crepe georgette, skillfully handled about the figure and caught over the shoulder and at the waist with beaded ornaments of turquoise blue and green. The majority of Worth's new evening gowns are of this type. Indeed, while favoring these lines also, is still expressing his fondness for the colorful medieval past. Many of his new models have the long, tight, ruffled and full skirts. In common with Paton he Picturesque, full-skirted models are still to be found in practically every collection. Lanvin, Schiaparelli, Jenny and a host of other designers are showing delightful frocks of this style. Cherit alone seems to have something really new in the way of skirt lines—a full or flounce about sixteen inches deep at the hem. This feature has been termed the Botticelli flounce, but in reality it is much more Spanish than Italian in effect.

Fire Department Probe To Be Held Up Pending Stevens' Arrival In Fresno
Activity on the part of the Fresno Fire Commission will be suspended pending the arrival here of Jay W. Stevens, fire prevention expert and representative of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Milo Rowell, chairman of the commission, stated this morning.

Plans had been made by the commission for the opening of a probe of Stevens' charges of inefficiency in the fire department had he been able to attend the weekly session of the commission scheduled for tomorrow, and it was because of this that the weekly meeting was postponed.

Stevens has advised the commission that he will be in Fresno next Monday. At that time the fire commission will take steps for a comprehensive survey of the fire department and associated subjects in order that they may be better able to conduct a sweeping investigation of the department.

To this end Stevens will be asked to devote considerable time to pointing out conditions which he believes should be remedied, and he also will be asked to reorganize the entire city.

Death Of Miss Aline
Foley

Announcement that an official investigation into the death of Miss Aline Foley, aged 23, well known in Fresno social circles, who was accidentally electrocuted in the bathroom of her home, 716 O Street, will not be conducted, was made today by Coroner John Lisle.

No inquest will be held, in accordance with the wishes of the parents and relatives of the dead girl.

It was also stated today at the Lisle and Ross Undertaking Parlor that funeral arrangements for Miss Foley will not be completed till late today.

Miss Foley, who was employed by the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation, met with almost instant death yesterday afternoon at her home, when an electrical current from a heater passed through her body when she stepped from a bathtub.

She was reaching for a towel she had placed on the heater when she received the death shock.

She was discovered by her parents, who alarmed because she had remained in the room an unusual length of time, forced their way in and found her dead.

Miss Foley was prominent in the younger social set and took up employment with the power concern after she completed her school career.

DEMERA PLANS TO SEEK NEW TRIAL

Sentence For Man Convicted
Of Arson Scheduled
Tomorrow

Attorneys for Joe Demera, found guilty Saturday by a jury in the superior court on a charge of arson, announced today that a motion will be made for a new trial and in the event that is denied they will appeal.

Demera is scheduled to be sentenced at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow morning by Judge J. E. Woolley, before whom he was tried. The case was on trial nine days.

Release of Demera upon the approval of a new bond was scheduled for today. The original bond, upon which he was at liberty prior to the jury's verdict, was $10,000, and the new one will be for the same amount.

Members of the district attorney's office are checking up on the bondsmen on the new instrument.

Demera's conviction came Saturday night after the jury had deliberated for nine hours. The case had been submitted to them almost exactly at noon, Judge Woolley completing his instructions at 11:55. Actual consideration of the case was begun by the jurors at 1:10, the intervening period having been spent at lunch.

Delay Stir Rumors
As the afternoon passed and no verdict was reported, rumors of a disagreement were spread. It was said two men were holding out against conviction. Then the report was that one man alone was blocking a verdict. In two previous trials of Demera the jury disagreed, the vote in the second trial having been reported as 11 to 1 for conviction.

When the verdict was announced, Judge Woolley ordered Demera into the custody of the sheriff. He was taken to the county jail and kept there until he appeared in court this morning.

Every Taxpayer Should Read These Facts And Records In Connection With The Sheriff's Office

—Study Them Over and Draw Your Own Conclusions

In producing these facts and records for your consideration, the Thorwaldson For Sheriff Club wants you to bear in mind that these are the facts and records as they are recorded in the official statistical records of Fresno County.

We are giving them to you because we have carefully gone into these records and are convinced that they show that Horace Thorwaldson, the man we are supporting for election as Sheriff of our county, on his record of efficiency and economy as Chief Deputy for five years under Walter S. McSwain, and as Sheriff by appointment for three years—is the RIGHT MAN FOR THE BIG JOB.

The THORWALDSON for Sheriff Club

The Thorwaldson For Sheriff Club is composed of thousands of taxpayers of Fresno County who are interested in the election of Horace Thorwaldson for Sheriff on his record as Chief Deputy under Walter S. McSwain for five years—and as Sheriff by appointment for three years during the war-time period when the office was required to carry out in effect the Military Registration of Fresno County, and do the work for the County Exemption Boards as well as for other Exemption Boards throughout the Nation, in apprehending slackers and bringing them before these boards—lending assistance to Liberty Loan and Red Cross drives—make endless investigations for the Department of Justice—make investigations of incendiarism, and the activities of the I. W. W.'s, and many other propositions in connection with war activities.

In the face of all these facts, the expenses of the Sheriff's office under Horace Thorwaldson DID NOT INCREASE but were held to a consistent figure.

This cannot be credited to anything but absolute efficiency.

Horace Thorwaldson's record has stood the test of time without a single criticism, and he is generally acknowledged to have been one of the most competent sheriffs Fresno County has ever had.

The Cost of the Sheriff's Office and Jail to the Taxpayers From 1912 to 1922

The first and foremost thing to consider in connection with this office—is its cost to the taxpayers.

Below are the outstanding figures of the expense of the office and jail to the county, taken from the Board of Supervisors' Statistical Financial Statements of Fresno County for each fiscal year beginning July 1st and ending June 30th, from 1912 to 1922:

1912-13—McSwain, Sheriff	$34,266.35
1913-14—McSwain, Sheriff	$37,934.13
1914-15—McSwain, Sheriff	39,190.00
1915-16—McSwain and Thorwaldson—appointed Dec. 6th, 1915	39,299.31
1916-17—Thorwaldson, Sheriff	$40,558.31
1917-18—Thorwaldson, Sheriff	$40,182.84
1918-19—Thorwaldson and Jones, Sheriffs—Jones took office Jan. 1, 1919	$40,345.33
1919-20—Jones, Sheriff	$46,010.89
1920-21—Jones, Sheriff	$55,797.28
1921-22—Jones, Sheriff	$70,230.99

We do not deny the fact that Fresno County has increased in population 100 per cent, but this increase has not been within the past three or four years—but has been a gradual increase over a period of 10 years, and equally during the administration of three different sheriffs.

And it is also admitted that there have been two departments of the Superior Court added to the county during the past 10 years—one department being added in the year 1917 during Horace Thorwaldson's administration as Sheriff, and as the records above show, without an apparent increase in the cost to the taxpayers of conducting the office, the expenses to the county of the last year (1917-18) of Thorwaldson's administration being less than the previous year!

So much for the cost of running the office. The statistics taken from the county records speak for themselves.

Civil Work Not an Expense to the County Facts in Regard to Criminal Cases

Now let us give you the facts in connection with civil work done by the Sheriff's office.

It makes no difference how many civil cases are handled by the Sheriff, there is no expense incurred to the county, or to the office—for in civil procedure THE LITIGANTS PAY ALL EXPENSES.

Civil work done by the sheriff brings in a revenue to the county and, consequently does in no way figure in the expenses of the office, therefore could in no way be an item of expense in the $30,000 increased expenses of the office.

Here are the receipts for civil work turned in to the County Treasury by the sheriffs of the county from 1912 to 1922. They tell their own story:

	Per Cent of Increase or Decrease
1912-13—McSwain, Sheriff	$1,060.11
1913-14—McSwain, Sheriff	$1,666.19
1914-15—McSwain, Sheriff	$1,751.51
1915-16—McSwain and Thorwaldson, Sheriffs	$1,426.56
1916-17—Thorwaldson, Sheriff	$1,702.12
1917-18—Thorwaldson, Sheriff	$1,381.95
1918-19—Thorwaldson and Jones, Sheriffs	$2,107.99
1919-20—Jones, Sheriff	$2,268.50
1920-21—Jones, Sheriff	$3,181.12
1921-22—Jones, Sheriff	$4,348.08

It must be admitted that if the Sheriff's office handled a tremendous increase in criminal work—it would be shown by an equally large increase of the number of criminal cases filed on the records of the Superior Court.

The Superior Court records do not show this to be a fact—

Here they are—the actual records of criminal cases filed each year from 1912 to 1922—taken from the records of the Clerk of the Superior Court. They also speak for themselves. Read them—and give them careful consideration:

	Cases Filed
1912-13—McSwain, Sheriff	148
1913-14—McSwain, Sheriff	170
1914-15—McSwain, Sheriff	235
1915-16—McSwain and Thorwaldson, Sheriffs	228
1916-17—Thorwaldson, Sheriff	229
1917-18—Thorwaldson, Sheriff	193
1918-19—Thorwaldson and Jones, Sheriffs	173
1919-20—Jones, Sheriff	166
1920-21—Jones, Sheriff	292
1921-22—Jones, Sheriff	281

Spreckels Flays Crooked Capital In Speeches On Water-Power Act

San Francisco Banker Says Financiers Are Disgraced By Acts Of Those Who Would Usurp Rights Of People Of The State

TULARE (Tulare Co.), Oct. 30.—"I am a capitalist, but I have the vision to see that my fortune is at stake and that disgrace is being brought on men in my sphere because of the acts of crooked capital," Rudolph Spreckels told a Tulare audience Saturday night in a speech on the water and power act.

"As a banker I loan money against the securities of corporations," he went on, "and if I thought this act would be a disintegrating force in this state I would not be here urging you to adopt it."

Large Crowds In Attendance. The San Francisco banker faced a large crowd of farmers and business men in the L. D. E. Hall, where H. E. Martineau, president of the Tulare Board of Supervisors, presided.

Reports that the great majority of west Tulare County voters were opposed to the water and power act, he said, were "purely mythical." He disclaimed with regret the report that he had written the act, and ascribed it to a committee of experts who drafted it after three months work.

Decried Tax Increase. He decried the passage of the act would raise taxes and decried the only way to decrease taxes would be to increase tax wealth, which was the main purpose of the water and power act.

Adventurous Lads' Career In Visalia Halted By Police

VISALIA (Tulare Co.), Oct. 30.—Leonard McCormick, 14; Raymond Ogilvie, 14, and Alex. H. H. three range cowboys, were halted in their search for adventure in Visalia Saturday and returned to their homes when parents came for them, after having started about for Mooney's Grove of which they had heard much and where, they said, they felt certain they could have some real fun.

The boys, whose fathers are W. G. McCormick, A. G. Ogilvie and H. H. H., of Orange, Cal., left the Orange Cal. schoolhouse Friday night and came to Visalia Saturday morning, where they were found wandering around by City Marshal H. H. H.

J. C. WARD, telegrapher of sixty years, who would relinquish post at Visalia. He taught Thomas A. Edison, the electrical inventor, how to operate a telegraph instrument, and was General Grant's telegrapher in 1862 and 1864. His career permitted him to know such men as John W. Mackay, James M. Flood, General Horace W. Carpenter, names to conjure with in the pioneer days of the building of the West.

Start Movement To Equip Steamers With Refrigeration Plants To Handle Fruit

SAN FRANCISCO BEE BUREAU. Oct. 30.—Grape growers have become reconciled to the fact that their crop cannot satisfactorily be moved by refrigerated cars. So Edgar Sheehan, viticulturist, declared here Saturday in commenting on reports that California grape growers are arranging to equip steamers with refrigerating systems to handle their crop to the Atlantic seaboard.

To Meet At Washington. Sheehan said that no definite arrangements have yet been made for handling the grape crop by ship, but that work to that end was actively under way. The committee of the Grape Growers' Association will meet in Washington the latter part of January with the United States Shipping Board and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to make more definite arrangements.

Another substantial shipment of grapes is to be made shortly from San Francisco, according to Sheehan, to demonstrate the practicability of handling the fruit by steamer. Early experiments, he said, had been entirely satisfactory, but promising.

Methods Compared. Under the old method of shipment by boat the fruit was placed in chambers with refrigerating coils to keep the temperature down. Then when these chambers were opened in the tropics for ventilation the cold air rushed out and the humid, warm air rushed in, causing the grapes to rot and spoilage.

The new refrigerating system is of the ventilating type. The refrigerating coils are located all together, and the cold air is circulated through the grapes furnishing both ventilation and cold.

Two Degrees Variation. On the new type refrigerator steamer, Sheehan said, the temperature can be maintained at within two degrees of constant. Even under favorable conditions the temperature in refrigerated cars often varied as much as thirty degrees.

Commenting on the present situation Sheehan said that thousands of dollars had been lost "not only through inability to get rid of the crop, but even after the crop was secured due to the fact that grapes were loaded that were in no condition to be shipped. The grapes were bound over for trial in the superior court here, following a preliminary hearing held before Justice Harold Hone. Bail was fixed at $1,000 each, in default of which the grapes are in the hands of the court.

Gonzales is said to have admitted his part in the theft, but Wynn maintains he and his companion purchased the saddles from a stranger in San Benito County. The pair was arrested following a trade of the saddles, the property having been identified by employees of the Titus ranch.

During the latter part of 1892 Ward was attached to Grant's staff as operator, although he was born in Huntsville, Ala., himself in 1844. In 1883, at Corvallis, Ore., he struck the building in which he was operating, injuring his hand to such an extent that he could no longer work with a key, and he returned to Chicago. Later, he was with a personal letter from General Grant to General Carpenter, Ward crossed the Great Divide, taking thirty days by stage coach from Chicago to San Francisco, and entered the service of the telegraph company on the Pacific Coast, going to Sacramento, there to work with the Western Union. GRAPE GROWERS PLAN SHIPPING CROP BY WATER

SAN FRANCISCO BEE BUREAU. Oct. 30.—Grape growers have become reconciled to the fact that their crop cannot satisfactorily be moved by refrigerated cars. So Edgar Sheehan, viticulturist, declared here Saturday in commenting on reports that California grape growers are arranging to equip steamers with refrigerating systems to handle their crop to the Atlantic seaboard.

To Meet At Washington. Sheehan said that no definite arrangements have yet been made for handling the grape crop by ship, but that work to that end was actively under way. The committee of the Grape Growers' Association will meet in Washington the latter part of January with the United States Shipping Board and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to make more definite arrangements.

Another substantial shipment of grapes is to be made shortly from San Francisco, according to Sheehan, to demonstrate the practicability of handling the fruit by steamer. Early experiments, he said, had been entirely satisfactory, but promising.

Methods Compared. Under the old method of shipment by boat the fruit was placed in chambers with refrigerating coils to keep the temperature down. Then when these chambers were opened in the tropics for ventilation the cold air rushed out and the humid, warm air rushed in, causing the grapes to rot and spoilage.

The new refrigerating system is of the ventilating type. The refrigerating coils are located all together, and the cold air is circulated through the grapes furnishing both ventilation and cold.

Two Degrees Variation. On the new type refrigerator steamer, Sheehan said, the temperature can be maintained at within two degrees of constant. Even under favorable conditions the temperature in refrigerated cars often varied as much as thirty degrees.

Commenting on the present situation Sheehan said that thousands of dollars had been lost "not only through inability to get rid of the crop, but even after the crop was secured due to the fact that grapes were loaded that were in no condition to be shipped. The grapes were bound over for trial in the superior court here, following a preliminary hearing held before Justice Harold Hone. Bail was fixed at $1,000 each, in default of which the grapes are in the hands of the court.

CITY MANAGER POSSIBLE UNDER VISALIA CHARTER

Trustees Given Authority To Appoint Official If New Plan Is Adopted

VISALIA (Tulare Co.), Oct. 30.—If Visalians adopt the proposed new charter for the city which is ready for submission by the charter commission tomorrow, they will have provided a form of city government somewhat different from most city charters in that they will make it possible for the city trustees to choose a city manager if in the opinion of the trustees, such a course is advisable. Generally charters touching upon the city manager plan, specifically state therein that such an official shall be chosen.

Five Trustees Provided. The proposed charter provides for the trustees form of government, five trustees being elected together with five members of the city school board. No other officials of the city would be elected, all being appointive, including the city clerk, city assessor, city marshal, city judge, city treasurer, street superintendent, and down the line including a city manager, if the trustees believe a city manager should be chosen.

In planning the proposed charter for Visalia the commissioners frankly have stated their belief that the city that they are planning to adopt, but have nevertheless left this decision to the board of trustees.

Charter Once Defeated. Visalia, a city of the fifth class, is governed at present under a law passed by the State Legislature in 1870. Once before, however, the city manager plan of government, submitted at that time, was defeated. The city manager form is again a storm center, but the decision of the commissioners to leave the final choice to the trustees may cause its adoption.

The center lights were in vivid orange, which cast a subtle glow on the scene. Black cats, witches and huge yellow sunflowers were placed at intervals around the neutral toned walls of the club house, which lend themselves so effectively to decoration.

A bent, gnarled old witch, who made her entrance when the dance was in full swing, took her place beside a scolding cauldron, from whence she drew a "fortune" for each guest.

Dinuba Legion Team Takes Opening Game From Fresno 7 To 0

Local Gridiron Players Put Up Good Fight Considering Lack of Team Practice. Peterson Handicapped By Lack Of Speed In The Backfield

PLAYING smoother football the Dinuba American Legion eleven in the San Joaquin league yesterday afternoon defeated the Fresno Legionnaires by a score of 7 to 0. It was the local aggregation played a large part in its defeat.

Fresno's line, in all but the early part of the first half did fairly good work but the back field with the exception of Coach Millard Peterson was miserably slow. Time after time the former Olympic Club star had an opportunity to get away for substantial gains only to have his interference plodding along in front of him. Peterson was blocked repeatedly by the slowness of his own backs. On other occasions, exasperated, no doubt, by the lack of speed, he attempted to run around his interference only to meet disaster. Dinuba, while the victor, did not show any flashy brand of football. Having a decided advantage in kicking and seasonal experience the visitors were able to score once and but for the individual work of a few Fresno players would have had little difficulty in increasing the count.

It was only nine minutes after the game opened when Benny Tuter, the star back of the Dinuba team, crossed the Fresno goal line with the only touchdown of the game. After that both teams had opportunities to count but rugged work principally prevented scoring.

Fresno's disadvantage in the kicking department, Nuss, doing the kicking for the Dinuba eleven gained from five to twenty yards on every exchange. The Dinuba ends worked better than Fresno's. The left side of the local line was woefully weak during the early stages of the game and it was through this spot that many of the long gains were made that resulted in the score.

So far as individual brilliancy was concerned there wasn't any. Peterson was the outstanding figure in the Fresno eleven while Nuss and Sharp did most of the heavy work for the Dinuba aggregation. Budge, the big red-headed end of the Dinuba team must not be overlooked. It is merely that a football player is found who can play as good a game as did Budge and still get such enjoyment out of the play. This big smiling fellow always had some snappy comedy to pull while the teams were lining up or during a lull in the play. It is this spirit that spells sport for sports sake and with more Bidges in the game the real purpose of the pastime would be realized.

Plays Good Game. Don't think that the big fellow was a comedian except in conversation. He plays real football. But at the same time he gets one mighty recall out of every play that is called. His comment "That's the play I've been waiting for" or "I think that's the best one yet" is the kind of thing that makes the numbers showed a heart that was in there, win or lose, for the fun of the game.

The officiating yesterday was excellent. Stahl, once a star on the Kansas Aggies, Newman, one of the greatest backs the Oregon Aggies ever cheered were the men on the field as referee and umpire. Both are officials far above the average and there was no complaint from the teams. Of course, there was the usual amount of blather comment from those who would not recognize a rule book on the street.

BAKERSFIELD IS BEATEN BY SELMA

(By Bee Bureau.)

BAKERSFIELD (Kern Co.), Oct. 29.—Sporting in every quarter the Selma American Legion football aggregation had little trouble with the Bakersfield eleven, winning by a score of 21 to 0. The local team was seriously handicapped in the line by the absence of Simmons at tackle and Mattie, center. Both men are experienced and the substitutes who replaced them failed to plug the holes.

Selma scored in the first quarter when a bad pass to Quarterback Williamson rolled behind his own goal line and he was forced to fall on the ball, scoring a safety and two points for Selma.

In the next quarter an intercepted forward pass gave the visitors a touchdown following a twenty yard run through a broken field. At the opening of the second half Selma started playing straight football and soon had the ball over for the second touchdown. This performance was repeated in the final quarter. Only one of the three place kicks after touchdown was converted for a point.

The work of the Selma aggregation was excellent throughout and even in view of the defeat by Visalia this aggregation under the guidance of Coach Victor Kelley demonstrated clearly yesterday that they will be a strong contender for the American Legion championship. The line worked beautifully during the entire contest, giving the backs all the opportunity in the world.

Modesto High Eleven Is Swamped, 28 To 0, By Selma Grid Team

(By Bee Bureau.)

SELMA (Fresno Co.), Oct. 29.—Shifting his line-up due to minor injuries that kept some of the first string squad out of the game, Coach Edwards of the Selma High School started a mixed line-up in the game last Saturday afternoon against the Modesto High School team. When Selma held the northerners scoreless while piling up a score of 28 points.

At no stage of the game was Selma's goal line endangered, while Selma backs and ends went over for four touchdowns and two safeties. The four points gained by the two safeties made up for the failure to make the additional one point after touchdown.

Modesto's backfield men were woefully weak in handling punts, fumbles being frequent and in most cases recovery was made by a Selma player. The line-up:

Selma.....Modesto

Tulare High Eleven Will Try To Lose Jinx

(By Bee Bureau.)

TULARE (Tulare Co.), Oct. 29.—Still disappointed in their hopes of winning a county league game, Tulare High's gridiron squad turned out again today to commence the practice for the third game of the season here next Saturday with Porterville. Having been defeated by Lindsay two weeks ago and by Strathmore last Saturday, Tulare will try to get back into form.

Tulare repeats this year its history of winning some sensational games prior to the opening of the league schedule, and then being taken under the wing of the goddess of hard luck. The Tulare squad has been matched with Visalia high school for the main sports event of the Armistice Day celebration in Visalia, November 11.

Tommy Milton Faces Blindness As Result Of Cotati Accident

(By Bee Bureau.)

PETALUMA, Oct. 29.—Specialists to-day were fighting to save the sight of Tommy Milton's right eye, which was pierced by bits of glass at the Cotati speedway, near here, yesterday when his goggles were shattered by flying splinters from the track.

Milton, with the sight of one eye already impaired, is in danger of becoming blind as a result of the accident.

Tommy Milton was racing yesterday, making the 100 miles at an average of 114 miles an hour. Frank Elliott was second, Harry Haritz third, and Jimmy Murphy fourth.

STATE LOSES TO CARDINAL FRESHMEN

(By Bee Bureau.)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 29.—The Cardinal freshmen eleven put up a fight against the Stanford Babes who won because of better training and a more experienced backfield combination.

The physical condition of the Stanford players would not stand the amount of fight that they put into the game. Time after time the boys were laid out and they were pretty badly bruised before the first gun ended things.

Stan Ryan, who had been playing a splendid game for the Fresnoites, was taken out of the play in the third quarter with a fractured ankle.

Stanford backs star. The Stanford backfield played a brand of football that would have looked mean to a four year variety. Clares and Cook, both tricky fast open field runners, have been consistent players for the Babes throughout the season and with the perfect interference of Solomon, the physical condition of the Stanford players would not stand the amount of fight that they put into the game.

During the first period the Fresno men, after an exchange of punts, marched down the field to the 15 yard line where they were held by the Stanford defense. The Stanford defense was not to be stopped.

The Babes had been caught unaware by the tricky "Minnesota shift" of Coach Jones' players. Toward the end of the first quarter the Stanford boys caught their stride. During the remainder of the contest the Stanford offense was ineffectual.

Fresno Ends Active. The Babes were on the offensive the major part of the game, and they were only stopped from running up a touch down score than that by the Stanford defense. Fred Tolmachev and Al Smith, Fresno ends, these two men persisted in setting around behind the Stanford line and doing a lot of damage to the enemy's backfield.

PORTERVILLE (Tulare Co.), Oct. 29.—Porterville High School on Saturday took its first football victory over the reason for its defeat by a score of 6 to 0 in a ragged game at Delano. Much fumbling by both sides marred the game, but the forward passes Porterville kept the ball in the territory during most of the four periods.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

BY JACK KEENE

Boxing in Australia has been going steadily down hill ever since the death of Lew Poyser, the only real fighter developed in that country since the days of Vane and Bob Fitzsimmons and others of their period.

Death of high class fighters is the sole reason for the decline of the sport in the Antipodes. There are more boxing fans in Australia than in any other country in the world. The government has an active interest in the sport. Boxing is taught in the public schools. Magnificent arenas in all the big cities provide ample room for the sport. The sport is better conducted there than in any other spot on the globe, and it is rapidly running to seed.

Jack Morris, the man who has been the mainstay of the sport, controls boxing in Australia. He is in this country some time ago in search of talent. So far he has not been able to obtain the services of a good fighter. The sport is not coming to pass yet, but the large purses here certainly have ruined

TEAM LINEUP OF ALL STARS RECEIVED

(By Bee Bureau.)

The line-up of the All Stars who will play here next Saturday and Sunday against the Fresno Tigers was received to-day by Manager Cliff McCall and includes both Willie Kamm and Jimmy O'Connell, the two San Francisco stars who have been sold to the big leagues for record prices. The entire line-up is:

Kamm, center field.
Kamm, third base.
Edwards, right field.
Mollwitz, first base.
Orr, short stop.
McIntosh, second base.
Witte, catcher.
Pitters, pitcher.
Pitters, pitcher.
Pitters, pitcher.

Fresno fans have figured all summer long that the All Stars would make a creditable showing in the Coast League and in the games this week—and they will be able to tell just what the local team can do for the team coming here.

Kamm and O'Connell—household words in baseballdom—will be the big attractions but the rest of the players are also of star caliber. "Dutch" Miller, who will pitch one of the games for Fresno was Brooklyn's best pitcher last year and will give the All Stars plenty of trouble.

Stanford's condition of the Stanford players would not stand the amount of fight that they put into the game. Time after time the boys were laid out and they were pretty badly bruised before the first gun ended things.

California And U. S. C. Freshmen Play 3 To 3 Tie On Northern Field

(By Bee Bureau.)

BERKELEY, Oct. 29.—While the Bears were defeating the Trojans at Pasadena, 12 to 0, the California freshman football team battled U. S. C. first year eleven to a 3 to 3 tie on California Field in a ragged game marked by fumbling on both sides.

U. S. C. scored in the first quarter on a drop kick by Doran, right end, after they had recovered a fumbled punt by Dixon, Blue and Gold safety man.

The Bears scored their three points in the last quarter with but three minutes to go, when T. K. substitute quarter, drop kicked through the goal posts. They had carried the ball half the length of the field on line backs by Dixon and Griffin, substitute halfbacks. With three yards to go on the fourth down, Tait decided on a drop kick instead of trying to buck the ball.

U. S. C. first year men outplayed the Blue and Gold Cubs in every department of the game, except for the last ten minutes of the contest, when Griffin, Stanford boy, alternated with Dixon, carrying the ball down the field on straight line backs.

Johnny Leustetter, former Bakersfield High quarter, was the outstanding star for U. S. C. while Dorrie, who punted and drop kicked for the Southern boys, also showed up well.

Pete Schlaffitz, former Bakersfield star, played a steady game at end for the Berkeley team. Bill Porter, at center, passed erratically several times during the game, but played a good offensive contest.

Gustine Track Team Wins West Side Meet, Defeating Oristimba

(By Bee Bureau.)

GUSTINE (Merced Co.), Oct. 29.—Gustine High School won the annual track meet of the West Side at Gustine Saturday. Only two schools—Gustine Union High School and Oristimba Union High School—sent representatives to the meet. Los Palos Union High School had entered men in all the events, but failed to put in an appearance. Gustine Union High School is playing football this season and has not students enough to take care of both.

The final score stood 115 to 52, in favor of Gustine, which entitles it to the longest pennant.

Harvard Undeclared Looks Like Best Of Eastern Grid Teams

Princeton's Great Victory Over Chicago Gives Eli And The Crimson Something To Worry About. Centre's Quarter Kicks Six Field Goals

By HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Harvard, undefeated and apparently gaining in power is still about the best looking team in the east. Iowa Fayette and Washington and Jefferson still remain in the rapidly decreasing ranks of teams eligible for the eastern title.

The great naval academy eleven crashed out of the ranks of the elite by a rather surprising defeat at the hands of the University of Pennsylvania eleven and Pennsylvania State did not gain in prestige through a scoreless tie with Syracuse. Yale's game against the army was of little encouragement to the Eli following. The Blue eleven had to be content with a 7-7 tie, because of the lack of a punch and the absence of ammunition for their guns.

Bears Disappoint Grid Followers In Pasadena Game

(By Bee Bureau.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—Another such victory as that of Saturday over the University of Southern California, and had it blown to the University of California football team, football followers agreed today.

The famous California eleven was unable to do better than score an even dozen points against the Southern California team, and had to fight for every one of them. The game sent U. S. C. stock soaring.

Stanford which went north expecting to be beaten by the Oregon Aggies, came out of its game with a six to nothing victory.

The University of Oregon beat Idaho 3 to 0.

The Price Play. Dickenson, Rutgers, fullback, picked up a West Virginia fumble and ran twenty-five yards in the strong direction before two of his team mates overhauled him and downed him. West Virginia won 23 to 0.
